-An ENDURING FRIENDSHIP SAGE & The PRIDE CENTER WORKING TOGETHER

by Ron Catena & Bruce Williams

Ron Catena

Carl M. Galli – our returning SAGE of South Florida (SSF) President has been with SAGE for over a decade. About the time that Carl was retiring from his public service career with the Social Security Administration, SSF president, Larry Silberhorn recruited Carl to serve as the assistant to the Social Chairman. “I was sort of baptized by fire” Carl notes, explaining that during one of his first events, the Social Chairman fell ill and Carl just had to pick up the pieces and run with it. And run he has...serving as President for four years, taking a two year hiatus from the board and now returning to lend his leadership abilities in forging the future of SAGE of South Florida.

With Carl responsible for my becoming a board member, we recently chatted about his leadership and accomplishments. He noted that he has never chosen to be an ‘in your face’ advocate but that he prefers a more gentle and subtle means of persuasion. One of the first things that drew me to SSF was Carl’s insight of dedicating the cover story of the July, 2011 SSF Newsletter to The Older American’s Act (which is so vital to the well-being of our senior population but has only recently been recognized as such). Carl has been instrumental in engaging SSF in such endeavors as SAGE on The Border/Alternatives (a very popular co-ed drop-in/outreach program in Palm Beach County that thrives even in a Community Center that is not strictly for LGBT individuals); the continued involvement with the Noble A. McArtor Senior Day Care Center (of which SAGE was an initial sponsor); raising funds for the Broward County Breast Cancer Coalition; collaborating with the Florida Agency on Aging and AARP to present The CarFit Program; and in initiating such projects as the Assisted Living Project and continuing SAGE’s involvement with the Senior Health Expo which have since become pillars of our community’s advocacy programs.

The June program will feature Dominic J Bisignano.

Dominic J. Bisignano, PhD. was born in Brooklyn, N.Y. After high school, he went on to earn a B.A., an M.A. and a PhD. In 1959, he received a Fulbright Grant to Italy, where he wrote his doctoral dissertation, "The Browning's and Their Italian Critics". During that time, he explored the rich cultural life of Italy: its music, its art, its architecture and its literature. He enjoyed especially the world of opera. He attended several performances at La Scala and other venues.

He taught British literature for 25 years at Indiana University in Indianapolis. During that time he was the Italian diction coach for the Indianapolis Opera Company. He also enjoyed going to Bloomington, Indiana, the home of Indiana University, whose school of music is world famous and whose opera productions are internationally known.

Music was always a part of his life. He grew up in a family where music and the arts held a high esteem. Living in New York City, he enjoyed its rich musical world of opera, symphony and ballet. He came to Ft. Lauderdale in 2003 and organized the opera group.

Later it was expanded to include the ballet.

At present, the Opera and Ballet Group meets in the Pride Center on the second and fourth Sundays of the month. The group is open to all. To be informed of the meeting, your email address will be added to the list of those who received the notices of upcoming events. You can send your email address to dbisignano@aol.com.

NOTES FROM THE SAGE CO-ED DISCUSSION GROUP

The monthly SAGE Co-Ed Discussion Group meets on the third Thursday of the month and we welcome your participation. As mature members of the LGBT community, this group is targeted for Women and Men. We share our insights and experiences in a cordial atmosphere on general topics related to life, work, relationships, "memory lane", LGBT issues, and other common experiences.

The people in this group are nice! A co-ed group offers a unique perspective from both genders. We need more LGBT women in the group to ensure that dynamic of a co-ed experience.

There is no fee for participation. If you are a good-natured individual who would enjoy meeting on a regular basis with others in our group, please consider coming to check us out.

Although it takes time to get to know others, the group experience such as this over a period of time allows all of us to get to know each other. You will like what you see and will appreciate the insights of others. Fellow group members will also get to know and appreciate your input and contributions.

Our meeting date for June is June 18, 2015 and the meeting begins at 1 pm. Mark your calendars and plan on join us at the Pride Center in Room B208.

SEE YOU AT THE MOVIES

with Carl M. Galli
& Marc Flanagan

I've been asked by several members to show a "really gay" film (and not just one with an LGBT sub-plot) -as well as a "happy" one. To be sure, there are lots of silly gay movies out there. (The "Eating Out" series comes to mind.) And even more dramatic ones. (We've seen plenty of those.) But a quality gay comedy is not easily found.

But I think our June 15th movie fits the bill. The 2012 Italian gay comedy "Come non Detto" (or "Never Mind") which was retitled "Tell No One" for its U.S. Distribution, is a bubbly and uplifting tale. Of course, it has serious underpinnings. But it does not dwell on these. And by the end (we'll stay for the end-credits) all is resolved to the audience's satisfaction.

Directed by Ivan Silvestrini (who won the 2013 Golden Graal Award for Best Comedic Director) and written for the screen by Roberto Proia (from his novel), this is similar in tone to this past December's "Make the Yuletide Gay", in which a young gay man is out to everyone but his family, when his boyfriend decides to drop by unexpectedly.

Here we have Matthia (played by a charming, young Timberlake look-alike, Josafat Vagni) planning on moving away from his Italian family (Monica Guerritore, Antonio Bruschetta, Valeria Bilello) to live openly with his boyfriend Eduard (Jose Dammert) in Spain. Until Eduard decides to drop-in on the family's last dinner together -thinking they approve of the relationship. Thank goodness Matthia has a "fairy godmother" in drag queen Alba Montanari -here nominated for Best Comedic Actor) to try to help him out. Especially when the seriousness of homophobic sports-buddy Christian (Alan Cappelli Goetz) rears its ugly head.

From IMDb.com: "I absolutely loved this film. This film was comical, funny, emotional, romantic, had family values.... There wasn't a single moment in the film that got me bored.... Everything was right, without over-acting; and subtle."

Since it takes place over the course of one day, a lot of Matthia's past is filled-in pretty much seamlessly via flashbacks, enabling us to get to know him as more than a mere caricature.

This is the key to the movie's success.

We will be screening the unrated U.S. Release, in Italian with English subtitles.

In just 97 minutes, we understand Matthia's back story -and empathize with his fumbling decision to come out.

Come enjoy "Tell No One" with us, on Monday, June 15th, at 4PM, in Room 204 of the Pride Center.

And enjoy dinner with us afterward.

*The Golden Graals (Grolle d'oro) is one of the oldest Italian film awards. The award was founded in 1953 and ran until 1981. After some years of hiatus, it was relaunched in 1989

-An ENDURING FRIENDSHIP SAGE & The PRIDE CENTER WORKING TOGETHER

by Ron Catena & Bruce Williams

Carl was also a member of Alan Schubert's "grassroots" group which bravely gathered over two decades ago to create & establish a GLCC which has evolved into The Pride Center. "I can't believe how Alan's dream has blossomed into such a beautiful, world-class campus" Carl said.

Indeed, Ron Catena (Vice President, SAGE of South Florida) remembers our first year at the Pride Center: "I remember very clearly when the powers that be at the GLCC purchased the building in Wilton Manors. The news was met with great excitement by the community and by the SAGE Board of Directors. We immediately started talks with the Center regarding our renting office space. After all, SAGE wanted to be where the action was....

Like any other large construction project, our negotiated space was not ready on time. So we moved into a temporary space (actually a large storage closet in the back building). Nobody complained. Our future was bright. The atmosphere was dynamic. And we were moving from an office in Tamarac! After moving into our current office in the Main Building, bustling with activity and lots of people coming and going, we were home. And what a good move it proved to be.

A short time later, Robert Boo became C.E.O. of the Center (followed shortly by Kristopher Fegenbush as C.O.O.) and thus began a friendship between the two organizations. And then one of our Board members (Bruce Williams) became the Senior Services Coordinator. And the rest is history."

"I value the ongoing, effective collaboration between SAGE of South Florida and The Pride Center. At a personal level, Carl has been a faithful partner and supporter in impacting the lives of local older adults. I continue to be amazed by the expansion of Senior Services at The Pride Center under the dynamic leadership of Bruce Williams. Every day, I get to see our work enhance and improve our community...." said Kristopher Fegenbush.

Carl has served on the Senior Advisory Committee of The Pride Center. And during the early years of our Coffee & Conversation gatherings, he urged that the programming be extended to afternoon hours (with a games day and speakers) so that members of the LGBT community could come and spend the entire day among friends in a warm, accepting and welcoming environment. In fact, SAGE donated most of the original games -many of which are still in use today.

Feeling blessed to reside in an area where LGBT rights are accepted, endorsed and furthered as well as realizing that high waters raise all of the boats, Carl is thrilled with the symbiotic relationship that exists between SAGE of South Florida and The Pride Center. This collaboration boasts the highly successful SAGE Men's Drop-In (and recently, the Co-Ed Drop-In), the SAGE monthly movie screening which is open to all, and the SAGEWorks Program which helps LGBT folks over 40 to find work and to stay competitive in the professional world.

SOCIAL LITES

Ron Catena

The Social Committee would like to remind all SAGE members that besides the monthly planned events we have several ongoing programs for our members and their guests. They include the SAGE Monthly movie screened at the Pride Center the third Monday of every month at 4pm followed by an informal dinner at a local restaurant decided upon by those present.

The fourth Monday of the every month is "SAGE Men's Night Out". Under the direction of John Chandler a nice group of guys meet at Tropic's restaurant for drinks and then move to the dining room for dinner. They take advantage of the "ten for ten" special Monday dinner menu. Tropic's offers ten delicious dinners for ten bucks each. A good deal for some real good food.

On Tuesday June 16th we are having a Meet Up at at Hobo's grill at Rumors bar on Wilton Drive. We will meet at 5pm for drinks and socializing. They have a lovely lounge area comfortable and quiet. Have dinner whenever you decide, either on the outdoor patio dining area or inside. Order from the menu and pay for what you order. I have eaten here several times and the food was always good. Tuesday's they feature a complete steak dinner at a fair price or you can have one of the many items on the menu.

On Sunday July 19th at 2pm Dr David Goldberger will give a piano recital at the Pride Center main hall in celebration of his ninetieth birthday. A dinner in David's honor will be held at Sette Bello restaurant after the concert. More details to follow.

On Sunday August 16th captain Carl Barton is arranging a dinner at the Jalisco restaurant. Jalisco's has good Spanish/Mexican food at reasonable prices and offers two for one house Margaritas. The time is not yet determined.

We welcome any ideas for Social activities from our members. Let us know.

NOTES FROM THE MEN'S DROP IN

Ron Catena

This past month we had two guest speakers. Dr Eirik Saethre stopped by to update the group on his most recent comings and goings. Eirik is a medical anthropologist and a professor at the University of Hawaii who was returning from Patagonia Chile. He was in the area to visit his dad, a Drop In regular Lee Saethre before returning to Serbia to continue his work with the Roma population. He is a dynamic speaker and the members always enjoy his visits.

Our second speaker was the brilliant Dr Anthony Del Nuovo, who spoke on the History of Christianity in the World and How it Evolved into its many Denominations. Anthony spoke about his many years in a Catholic monastery. Eventually his curiosity took him to an Eastern Orthodox monastery. He kept a full house of Drop In regulars and their guests spellbound with his knowledge and dynamic presentation skills. We had originally planned for a twenty minute presentation followed by questions and answers. Well the presentation went for well over an hour followed by many questions. At the conclusion of the presentation Anthony received a well deserved standing ovation. What talented men sit amongst us at the Drop In.

At this month's SAGE Lunch and Learn our guest speaker will be our very own Dr. Dominic Bisignano. Dominic is a Drop In regular and runs the very popular Opera and Ballet group at the Pride Center. He is a world renowned opera historian and is a dynamic speaker. Mark your calendars and reserve your seat by calling the SAGE office. Not only will you have a sumptuous lunch, you will have the opportunity to enjoy Dominic's presentation.

SAGE members on the move:

- ☐ Richard Werner went to Israel to visit family and friends.
- ☐ Antonio Bardelli came from Florence Italy to Ft Lauderdale to attend the SAGE dinner at Chuck's Steak house, attend the Men's Drop In and visit his special pal Allen Sandler.
- ☐ Dr Frank Piasecki returning from a twenty day plus cruise across the Atlantic.
- ☐ Allen Churchman another Atlantic Ocean cruiser enjoying time in various European ports along the way.
- ☐ John Chandler returning from Italy.
- ☐ Fred Vega, his brother and his husband visiting from Vermont attending the Drop In. They are a delightful couple. I had the opportunity to have lunch with them. Fred and his husband Ron shared photos of the enormous snow banks around their home in Vermont.
- ☐ Dr Marty Horowitz went to Boston for the Jewish holidays.

On a sad note longtime SAGE member and sometime attendee of the Men's Drop In Sumner White passed away. Sumner was a retired insurance executive from Boston. He was a generous contributor to LGBT charities. He was truly "a man about town". When we were younger I would frequently run into Sumner at the Napoleon club in Boston. He was a great raconteur. He would share the many details of his "social life", frequently lapsing into "TMI". (too much information). He will be missed by all that knew him. He leaves behind two special pals Charlie Scarcella and Elliot Cohen.

The Men's Drop In meets every Wednesday from 1 – 3 pm at the Pride Center. All are welcome to come and enjoy the conversation. You will receive a warm welcome.

PRIDE CENTER WORKING TOGETHER

Carl returns to the helm, anxious to further the SSF Concert Series, which generally features talent from within the group, and welcomes attendees from throughout the community regardless of sexual orientation.

At a very well attended recent classical piano concert many of those who attended were visiting the Pride Center for the first time. They marveled at the clean, comfortable space with plenty of on-site parking. "I know that my friends and neighbors were very impressed" said Ron.

SAGE works with The Center's Customer Service Coordinator, Samantha McCoy to schedule and book the Center's Main Hall for piano concerts (as mentioned above) as well as other functions (such as Milestone Birthday Celebrations). She is patient and accommodating. And she does it all with a smile. She is a joy to work with.

Through all of this, Carl is driven to build SSF membership in general, with a special emphasis on increased participation from more diverse populations, as well as the SAGE women. As a 'man of today' he plans on using social media to attract the Boomer seniors who in turn will help to perpetuate the existence and the legacy of SSF for future generations.

When two entities work together in harmony with a common goal of serving our community it's always satisfying to everyone: "There's still much to be done for local LGBTQ Seniors. So many are seeking vital social support, culturally-competent healthcare, job-skills training, safe housing and personalized service-linkage and guidance.

Together SAGE and The Pride Center can make a difference."
continues Kris.

Amen!

Our treatment programs are individually tailored and our multidisciplinary team of experts use solution-focused methods that incorporate all aspects including mental, physical and emotional.
