Changes and Opportunities.

With the New Year and changing needs, SAGE has made some changes to our Board and has some opportunities to help us grow and prosper. First, there have been a number of additions and one resignation on our Board of Directors. One of our longest serving Board Members, Nancy Drennen, has decided it is time to take a break. Nancy has been a strong advocate for the SAGE Women and will continue to work in that capacity as long as her health allows. The board will miss her and we all hope she remains well.

SAGE has grown in the past few years to include more services to our members. To enable us to continue to grow and serve you, our members, and the GLBT community, the Board has added three new Board Members. Allen Churchman, Carl Barton, and Richard Werner. These individuals bring varied and useful skills to your Board. Below is a brief summary of each of their backgrounds.

Allen Churchman – Joined SAGE three years ago and has been active in the organization. He is a regular member of the Men's Drop-In, SAGE Camera Club, SAGE Computer Club and many other groups. He also volunteered and helped SAGE during Smart Ride 10 and expressed a desire to return in 2014 to SMART Ride 11. Allen worked for 35 years as a Not-for-Profit accountant. His last position before retiring to Florida was Chief Financial Officer for a Detroit area Social Services agency.

Carl Barton – Joined SAGE five years ago and has been involved with helping in the GLBT community which includes the Pride Center and SAGE. Carl is a native Floridian who was born and raised in Miami. He has had a varied and interesting career. He first worked for Gray Line Tours as an Office Director and Tour Guide. He relocated to New York City and worked for Hearst Magazines. He had the position as Executive Liaison between the newly installed Computer Data Processing Center and the manual Accounting and Bookkeeping Department. He returned to Florida to help his ailing mother and became a salesman for Broward RV. He was Salesman of the Year in 2003. Carl has always lent a helping hand whenever there is a need. He helps setup and teardown for many SAGE activities which include the Milestone Birthday Parties, Men's Drop-In group and Co-Ed Discussion group at the Pride Center.

Richard Werner – Joined SAGE five years ago and has participated in many of the SAGE activities. He was born in Uruguay and moved to Buenos Aires at the age of two and spent the next 19 years there. Richard immigrated to the US when he was 21. He worked for 44 in the Airline industry until he retired in 2004. He has travelled extensively and has lived in San Francisco, Los Angeles, Shreveport, Detroit and Israel (for three years). He volunteered in Hollywood California at the Gay Center's Library for four years and then in the newly opened Gay Center in Tampa Florida. Richard has volunteered and participated in many SAGE activities including the Men's Drop-In, Men's Singles group, theater events and is currently a member of the SAGE Social Committee.

As of the writing of this article, I was informed by our Web Master, Richard Bunyan, that he will no longer be able to volunteer in this capacity. He has generously offered to help the new volunteer. SAGE needs a new Web Master to continue providing information through our website. We wish to add picture galleries, and other useful data for our members and the GLBT community. If you or any of your friends would like to volunteer for this important position, please let me know. You can leave a message at the SAGE Office or see me. Thank you Richard for your service to SAGE as our Web Master. We really appreciate it. I would also like to thank you all for the great support you provide.

Please don't forget our From the Heart campaign. Your contributions help us continue to offer SAGE services to our members and the GLBT community.

NOTES FROM THE SAGE CO-ED DISCUSSION GROUP (AT THE PRIDE CENTER)

WANTED: Women and Men to Participate in the SAGE Co-Ed Discussion Group (and it's FREE too)!

As mature members of the LGBT community we share many common experiences from life. The Co-Ed Discussion group is aimed at both women and men to come together and engage in social conversation on any number of topics. Many of us have lived life from common and/or diverse perspectives and we have many insights and opinions to communicate with others in our community. I would like to extend an invitation to you to become an active member of this discussion group which meets twice a month—on the first and third Thursdays.

Personally, I like getting to know more about others in the group and to see and hear from people who at first might be just an acquaintance but in time may very well indeed become friends. If you are “good natured” and are willing to listen to others and share your own thoughts and opinions then you would be very welcomed to participate in this group setting.

The facilitator of the group asks a general question of participants. Since nobody knows what the questions are you have to think quickly to formulate a response. Questions are varied and focus on life in general, work experiences, interpersonal relationships, current events, issues pertaining to the LGBT community, etc. Most have a viewpoint to express but participants are always allowed to “pass” on a question and not respond.

Over a period of time group members get to know a lot about the others in the group. I find it fascinating to learn about the interests, insights, and backgrounds of others. After every meeting I always feel as if I have learned something new or have been presented with a new perspective that I had not previously considered. I find it good to expand my understanding of the world in which we live by considering the viewpoints of others. The group respects the opinions of others even if they are different.

Also, if you are new to Fort Lauderdale or to activities conducted at the Pride Center, you should consider joining this group. I like seeing the same people at these meetings and it would be great to see and meet you too if you have not yet participated.

Meetings for the month of March are scheduled for March 6 and March 20 (both Thursday) at 1 pm. We meet at the Pride Center in Room B-208. Mark your calendars!

SAGE SOCIAL-LITES

Carl M. Galli

March madness is upon us! No, not just the basketball games. There is so much going on this start-of-Spring month, in and around SAGE, that our heads will be spinning from all the opportunities to socialize.

It is of course Pride Month in two of the four counties which are within SAGE of South Florida's purview: March 1st and 2nd are the dates for PrideFest at the War Memorial Auditorium/Holiday Park in Ft. Lauderdale. (Come visit SAGE at our booth.)

Also the evening of March 2nd the Oscars are awarded... and we know there will be lots of screening parties among our SAGE members.

Later on in the month (March 29th and 30th) is Lake Worth/West Palm Beach's turn. So the month officially begins and ends pridefully!

On Sunday, March 9th "Daylight Savings Time" begins. So make sure to turn your clocks ahead that morning (or before you go to bed the night before) so as not to miss the 1pm performance of Memphis at the Broward Center. This show won the 2010 Tony Award for Best Musical, and is sure to have us singing and tapping along.

In honor of St. Patrick's Day, Thursday, March 13th we are trying another Meet-Up. This time at Maguires Hill 16 Irish Pub & Eatery. (On Andrews Avenue). The only rules are: There are no rules. No reservations. No set menu. Come by about 6pm, and stay as long as you'd like. Meet up with some of your SAGE friends. Have a drink or a bite. It's up to you. Let's make this as successful as the one at Lester's in Margate! (And avoid the hard-core craziness of the weekend's festivities.)

There have been a lot of inquiries regarding the plans for our Annual Meeting (Election of Board of Directors). We've teased you enough with "TBA" and "Galuppis" in "Save the Dates". It will be on Sunday, March 23rd, at Galuppi's on the Pompano Beach Golf Course. We plan a less formal, more price-friendly event in the afternoon. Get there between 2:30-3pm and enjoy an outdoor cocktail hour by the fountain and fairway. Please do attend, and meet some new Board Members.

(See flyer in this issue.)

Finally, we want to thank (belatedly, given publishing deadlines) the Volunteers who helped make the Milestone Birthday, Piano Recital, and Valentines Parties so successful: Sonny Miller, Carl ("with a C") Barton, John Harris, Inez Pasher, Sharron Demarest, Jerry Levy, Dr. Deric Bownds, the Gay Men's Chorus of South Florida's Tropical Wave Ensemble, Edwin ("Eddie") Neimann, Chef Giacomo & his Staff... and you, dear members (and readers) for attending in great numbers.

It's going to be a helluva March. So get out and do something. But whatever you do, Enjoy!

(Hopefully, Ron will be back soon. Let's all wish him a speedy recovery.)

This is a SAGE sponsored event.

HELPFUL HINTS FROM THE DESK OF...
DAVID TREECE, TREECE FINANCIAL GROUP, INC.

BE CAREFUL – BACKGROUND CHECKS:

Recently I have had some clients come to me after being approached about some investment ideas that seemed to look pretty good. One of the things I encourage you to do is background checking on any licensed individual. When checking someone's background, you may find felony convictions, a history of customer complaints, fines, and even things like previous forced resignations from other firms. Here is the link to do background checking on any securities licensed individual: <http://www.finra.org/Investors/ToolsCalculators/BrokerCheck/>.

TAX TIME :

Many of my clients are working with the accounting firm of Arthur Palermo, Jr. and specifically Brett Landsman, CPA. I want to remind everyone that if you have tax questions or concerns, or would just like a second opinion, Brett meets with clients in my office, and we would be happy to schedule an appointment for you. I have had great feedback from my clients who are working with Brett, and he is a great resource available to you through our office. You can visit their web site at www.arthurpalermo.com or call the office – 305.751.8855.

UPDATE YOUR BENEFICIARIES:

Sadly, I have had a couple clients who have recently lost their dear spouses. I have been spending a great deal of time preparing claim forms for life insurance, and for retitling assets. We have also had to declare new beneficiaries on the accounts that have been rolled over to the surviving spouse. I want to urge everyone to make sure that your beneficiaries are up to date! All IRAs, 401Ks, annuities, and life insurance policies have declared beneficiaries which means that the account goes to that beneficiary and avoids probate. Even non-retirement accounts and CDs can be set up as "transfer on death" where you can name a beneficiary.

As a Fiduciary, I have a duty of utmost care and loyalty to my clients and part of my financial planning practice is to look at everyone's overall needs and not just financial needs, and when I come across something useful, I like to pass it on.

SEE YOU AT THE MOVIES

Ken Lowery and Carl M. Galli

The SAGE movie for March will be shown on March 17th at 4:15 pm at the Pride Center, room 204 on the second floor.

The movie will be The Pajama Game, a 1957 musical film based on the stage musical of the same name. The principal cast of the Broadway musical repeated their roles for the movie, with the exception of Janis Paige, who was replaced by Doris Day.

If ever a musical comedy has been plucked off the Broadway stage and re-created as a movie with scarcely a passage or a principal performer changed, it is George Abbott's and Stanley Donen's production of The Pajama Game, virtually everything in it, with the major exception of Doris Day, who plays the role of the heroine instead of Janis Paige, is substantially as it was in Mr. Abbott's and Richard Bissell's original Broadway show, even down to Carol Haney getting pickled in Hernando's Hideaway.

There is John Raitt playing and singing the remarkably virile role of the hard-hitting superintendent of the pajama factory in Dubuque, Iowa. There is Eddie Foy Jr. reproducing the time-control manager, Hines, and Reta Shaw as big as life (and that's big!) as the office secretary. Ralph Dunn is still here as the president ("Production must increase, costs must go down"), Thelma Pelish is Mae, the porky seamstress, and Miss Haney is—well, she's still just grand.

As for the boy-meets-union story—or rather, boy-meets-union girl—it is not changed a bit from Mr. Bissell's original draft from his own book about love and labor in a pajama factory, 7½ Cents. The new superintendent still has his troubles getting a unionized plant to work and getting Babe, of the grievance committee, to abandon her grievances. The music to melodize these didoes is likewise fresh off the stage. Now, is that good?

The whole thing is splendid, the color is gay and strong and even Miss Day, the interloper, is right in the spirit of things. Her high point, we'd say, is when she couples with Mr. Raitt in There Once Was a Man, that elastic hill-billy number that is one of the best in the show.

Is it as good as the Broadway show? The answer is simple: It's as good as it was on the stage, which was quite good enough for many thousand happy customers over a period of a couple of years. It is fresh, funny, lively and tuneful. Indeed, in certain respects—as when they all go on the factory picnic—it is even more lively than it was on the stage.

In this situation, for instance, Miss Haney and a swarm of boys and girls do some jim-dandy leaping and whirling to the rollicking Once-a-Year Day. Out of doors, in a colorful setting, they can cover more ground than on a stage. And a cute bit of cinema trickery has been used to introduce Hernando's Hideaway.

But it must be said, too, that imitation has also imposed some restraints that make for a tangible rigidity within the frame of a musical film. There is an unmistakable routine to the alternation of dialogue and songs, of comedy scenes and production numbers, all of them coming on obvious cues. And some of the songs—for instance Hey, There, as sung by Mr. Raitt—are staged as if the actors in "talking pictures" hadn't been freed from an immovable microphone.

As for Mr. Raitt, he is refreshing because he looks natural and he has a voice. It would have nice now to see him in more fluid musical films, but alas, that did not happen.

For the rest, there is Steam Heat, with Miss Haney shuffling neatly with a couple of the boys, and there is the elaborate low-clowning and general "mugging" of Mr. Foy. When he takes off his pants to model the pajamas—well, that virtually stops the show. This will give you an idea of the vitality of this film.

As usual we will be going to dinner following the movie. We'll announce the choice at the close of the movie and ask for a show of hands of those who would like to join the group.

Please help us by returning your chair to stacks against the walls. THANK YOU.

See you at the movie!

This is a SAGE sponsored activity.
