SAGE WOMEN'S LUNCH

The Golden Corral Buffet and Grill in Tamarac is the place where the women of SAGE “greet, meet and eat” on the second Thursday of every month. The women enjoy an afternoon of lively conversation and socialization. They discuss topical issues and personal concerns. And, most importantly, they develop friendships and valuable social connections.

Over the past eight years, the driving force behind the continued success of this SAGE activity was Chairperson Nancy Drennen, ably assisted by former SAGE President Jean Johnson. Sadly, Nancy passed away on June 17th of this year. (See the related article on Page 8). Trying to find someone ready, willing, and able to continue in Nancy's place was not easy. But a worthy successor has been found. The new Chairperson of SAGE Women's Lunch is Pamela Larsen.

Encouraged by Nancy, Pamela Larsen has participated in SAGE Women's Lunch over the past several years. Pamela retired to Florida seventeen years ago from Long Island, New York. She is the mother of four adult children and was very active in the Parents Without Partners organization in Nassau County, New York, where she assisted with orientation programs for new members.

As chairperson, Pamela's goals are to encourage more women to attend the monthly luncheon and to develop more “women only” activities, such as discussion groups and social outings.

It's up to you, women of SAGE, to welcome Pamela and help her achieve these goals. Reach out, participate and connect with other SAGE women. You can make a difference. For more information on SAGE Women's Lunch, see Page 3.

SAGE MISSION STATEMENT SAGE of South Florida is a non-profit organization for Senior Action in a Gay Environment to enrich the lives of the GLBT senior community through membership inclusive of age, gender, race, nationality, and religion. We believe this can be accomplished by sponsoring social alternatives, by providing personal interaction, offering educational opportunities to deal with the special needs of aging, and by promoting contact with the isolated and home-bound persons of our community. SAGE is also an advocate for the concerns and needs of the senior community at large, providing referral information on community resources and promoting inter-generational communication in the GLBT community. SAGE was founded in 1994 as a Florida "not for profit" corporation (Federal Tax-Exempt Status of 501 (c) 3, allowing tax-deductible donations).

SAGE EDITORIAL POLICY SAGE welcomes contributors to the newsletter. An author may request their entry be "anonymous". However, the submission, as received by SAGE, must be accompanied by the full name and address of the author. Items will be published at our discretion, and such publication does not constitute endorsement by SAGE of South Florida. If we feel that we cannot publish a submission anonymously, we will contact the author. We reserve the right to edit articles for length, clarity, or standards of decency. We do not accept paid ads in the newsletter.

REGULARLY SCHEDULED SAGE-SPONSORED ACTIVITIES

THE ROUND TABLE

This CoEd group, sponsored jointly with The Fort Lauderdale Prime Gentlemen, meets to discuss contemporary topics and ideas from 2:30-3:30 pm on the second and fourth Mondays of each month in Room 206 of The Pride Center. Sessions have a moderator who presents a brief background on the discussion topic chosen for the session. The topic scheduled for September 10th is How Did Being Gay Change Your Life?, presented by Michael Vita and David Gripp; and scheduled for September 24th is Should We Be Concerned with Climate Change?, presented by Paul McNamara. Please email Ed Slough at WILDHYBRID@aol.com if you would like to be on the mailing list to receive notice of upcoming topics and background material for the sessions.

SAGE WOMEN'S LUNCH

Pamela Larsen

All women are welcome at SAGE Women's Lunch, every 2nd Thursday of the month, at the Golden Corral, 7401 Commercial Blvd., Tamarac 33319

at 12:00 pm, to meet, greet, eat, and discuss current happenings. You do not have to be a Member to attend. Membership is encouraged after the second visit. On behalf of our Seniors; Dedicated to positive thinking; Compassionate – Immeasurable. We like this world with its challenges and its opportunities. WE WISH THERE WAS A MAGNET TO ATTRACT OTHERS. Come join our friendly family. Call Pamela at 954.876.1004 for information.

SAGE COMPUTER CLUB

Ken Goodman

The SAGE Computer Club is changing!

By popular demand the SAGE Computer Club will go back to the basics. Register for our class, "Windows 10 for Seniors." This will be a full course that will meet every week and you will learn the basics of Windows 10. If any of you would still like to review what's happening in the tech world and have questions answered, contact Ken Goodman at kennyg1944@outlook.com. If there is enough interest, we will also schedule these sessions. The current Computer Club that meets every Wednesday at 4pm will be discontinued after August 29th. The new class will begin in September. Watch for the announcement.

SAGE BOOK DISCUSSION GROUP

Philip Collier

Bill Hayes came to New York City in 2009 with a one-way ticket and only the vaguest idea of how he would get by. But, at forty-eight years old, having spent decades in San Francisco, he craved change. Grieving over the death of his partner, he quickly discovered the profound consolations of the city's incessant rhythms, the sight of the Empire State Building against the night sky, and New Yorkers themselves, kindred souls that Hayes, a lifelong insomniac, encountered on late-night strolls with his camera. And he unexpectedly fell in love again – with his friend and neighbor, the writer and neurologist Oliver Sacks (Awakenings, The Man Who Mistook His Wife for a Hat, etc.) whose exuberance is captured in funny and touching vignettes throughout the book. What emerges is a loving tribute to New York and a loving portrait of Sacks at his most personal and endearing, from falling in love for the first time at age seventy-five to facing illness and death (Sacks died of cancer in August 2015)

Please consider joining the SAGE Book Group on Saturday, September 8th, 2018 at the Stonewall Library, 1300 E. Sunrise Blvd., Ft. Lauderdale, as it reviews – Insomniac City: New York, Oliver and Me by Bill Hayes - from 11am to Noon. All are welcome. No reservation is required.

NOTES FROM THE MEN'S DROP-IN

Carl Barton

The SAGE Men's Drop-In group meets every Wednesday from 1pm- 3pm at The Pride Center, Room 204. We are in the middle of summer and, even with the snowbirds gone, we are still maintaining a high attendance and have welcomed new attendees. Guests are always welcome. At a recent meeting, we congratulated member Rex Coston on reaching his 96th birthday, and serenaded him with a rousing rendition of "Happy Birthday". Please come join us for some lively and informative discussions at the weekly Drop-In. Thanks to Jefy Gaines for his help in co-hosting and to President Patrick S. Vida for his contribution of baked goods. We usually end our last hour with a closing entertainment surprise from Patrick and Jefy. They should be in show business very soon. Come and enjoy the Drop-In every week. We welcome you all.

SOCIAL LITES Sal Orlando

Still counting down to the end of summer. Three more weeks, hooray! Soon after, the weather starts to cool and the best part, humidity drops.

This past month we had a fantastic time at The Chatham House on the 19th. The place is so beautiful, the service wonderful, and the food delicious. They make SAGE feel so special.

This month, by popular demand, we return to Tropical Acres for SAGE's 24th Anniversary on Sunday, September 23rd. Cocktails and mingling between 12 and 1 PM at the Cash Bar in a private banquet room reserved for us where it will be followed by a scrumptious meal together with live entertainment. I enjoy going there. The staff treat us like royalty. Get your reservations in early.

Save the Dates: Tuesday, October 16th SAGE celebrates Octoberfest at The Ambry. On Sunday, November 18th we go to one of my favorite restaurants, Zuckerello's.

Reminder: There is still time to join us on your SAGE December 3-8, 2018 Cruise.

For more info, contact me at 954 563-3448 or email sorlan8@aol.com.

As always, for ongoing activities, consult your SAGE Calendar for meeting time and places.

Ciao for now.

SEE YOU AT THE MOVIES

Michael Vita

The SAGE September movie is Fighting Tommy Riley which utilizes boxing to convey its message through the multidimensionality of the characters. With merely a brief run in theaters and several airings on cable TV, many individuals might be unfamiliar with the film.

The 2004 production was adopted from a script written by JP Davis in the late 1990's. What might have turned off prospective producers was Davis's insistence that he play the protagonist in the movie. However, his persistence paid off when the screenplay finally came to fruition.

Tommy (played by Davis) is introduced as preparing for another bout in his training room with holes in the wall caused by disgruntled boxers, and a cracked mirror. A flashback that arises just as he is being called to the ring propels the rest of the movie. Recollecting his less than successful forays as a boxer, the people that made an impact in his life evolve. His girlfriend, Stephanie (portrayed by Christina Chambers) abandons him when his career was headed for a dead end. Then, he recalls being evicted from a gym after a practice bout for loafing. As he storms out of the building, Tommy is approached by Marty (Eddie Jones- Lois & Clark TV series, Seabiscuit) and his business partner with a proposal which would jump-start Tommy's fledgling career. When the offer is accepted, Marty questions his teaching ability, as he discovers Tommy's unorthodox boxing techniques. The first bout under Marty's tutelage proves far from ideal, but his discouragement is minimal because it is discovered that under Tommy's gruff exterior is an eager beaver; however, this optimism is tempered by reality when these fights were not reaping competitive or financial reward. Unbeknownst to Tommy, an arrangement is made where his opponent would purposely lose. Tommy is surprised at how routine the match was, but he remains non-skeptical. This begins a streak of triumphs that leads to a championship bout when Marty provides Tommy with some TLC (literally). The audience, whether they are/aren't stimulated by prizefighting, will appreciate the masseuse-like treatments that are provided by the teacher to his pupil. Depending on one's view of the world, boundaries may have been crossed, as there are revisions and other plot devices that keep things captivating. While some viewers may harken back to The Front Runner and Personal Best, which involved male and female coach/athlete relationships respectively, Tommy Riley takes such interactions a step further by demonstrating how the characters' ambivalence prevents any kind of certainty to materialize.

While the movie is lacking star power, it wasn't due to the efforts of the producers. Rod Steiger was to have played Marty, but he died prior to the start of filming.

Welcome. If you have a topic, comment or questions, please send an email to sagesofl@gmail.com.

Bad Break

A patient I was caring for one time broke her jaw eating toast. How can her bones become so brittle? The cause for her was severe osteoporosis.

Osteoporosis causes bones to become weak and brittle — so brittle that a fall or even mild stresses, such as bending over or coughing, can cause a fracture. Osteoporosis-related fractures most commonly occur in the hip, wrist or spine. Bone is living tissue that is constantly being broken down and replaced. Osteoporosis occurs when the creation of new bone doesn't keep up with the removal of old bone as it did when we were younger.

Osteoporosis affects men and women of all races. But white and Asian women — especially older women who are past menopause — are at highest risk. An excess or decrease in certain hormones such as estrogen or testosterone can be a factor, as can hormones from the thyroid and adrenal glands. Diets low in calcium, eating disorders and gastrointestinal surgery may also be factors, as can medications for seizures, gastric reflux, and cancer and antirejection drugs used following transplant surgery. Prednisone and cortisone may contribute to osteoporosis.

There typically are no symptoms in the early stages of bone loss. But once your bones have been weakened by osteoporosis, you may have signs and symptoms that include:

Back pain, caused by a fractured or collapsed vertebra, loss of height over time, stooped posture and bone fracture that occurs much more easily than expected.

You can find out whether you have osteoporosis or if you should be concerned about your bones by getting a bone mineral density (BMD) test. A BMD test uses a special machine to measure bone density. Some people also call it a bone mass measurement test. This test lets you know the amount of bone mineral you have in a certain area of bone. Bone density testing can be done on different bones of your body, including your hip, spine, forearm (between the wrist and elbow), wrist, finger or heel. A BMD test is safe and painless, and it provides important information about your bone health. Dental x-rays can also detect loss of jaw bone due to osteoporosis

Prevention

Medications, healthy diet (protein, calcium and vitamin D) and weight-bearing exercise can help prevent bone loss or strengthen already weak bones. We should take 1200 mg of calcium a day. A good source of calcium is low-fat dairy products, dark green leafy vegetables, canned salmon or sardines with bones, soy products, such as tofu and calcium-fortified cereals and orange juice. Do not take more than 2000 mg per day, as all medications prescribed and over the counter (OTC's) can cause additional problems. Finally, that dreaded word "exercise" comes up again and again. Stay safe and enjoy yourself.

We Care because YOU care about your health. Please always seek advice from your physician/nurse practitioner. Thank you to my editors Ann Smith, Nurse Practitioner, and Martin Horowitz, M.D. A sad farewell to one of our editors, Nancy Drennen, R.N.

Reviews of Tommy Riley were generally positive, especially the portrayal of alternative sexual orientation in a setting where masculinity is emphasized. The one notable exception was a critique in The Village Voice, which noted that Marty comes across as not unlike other “self-loathing homosexuals”, like the women in The Children’s Hour.

Fighting Tommy Riley is rated R for language and some sexual contact. It will screen without subtitles on Monday, September 17 at 4pm in Room 204 of the Pride Center. The 109-minute running time will allow viewers the opportunity to discuss the proceedings as we dine afterwards.

Remembering NANCY DRENNEN

A Memorial Mass and Reception was held on July 29, 2018 at the Sts. Francis and Clare Parish to honor Board Member Nancy Drennen who passed away on June 17, 2018. SAGE is indebted to Board Member Brother John Chandler for organizing this tribute to Nancy.

Eastern Boys is the most compelling film to be shown at the 2014 Rendez-Vous With French Cinema series at Lincoln Center and is impossible to shoehorn into a generic box. This story of a lonely middle-aged businessman whose involvement with a scrawny rent boy he meets at the Gare du Nord in Paris explores interlocking themes of sexuality, immigration and power dynamics with a clear-eyed sensitivity and refuses to demonize even its shadiest characters (NY Times).

Eastern Boys is a 2013 French drama film written and directed by Robin Campillo. It premiered at the 70th Venice International Film Festival in the Orizzonti section and was later screened in the Contemporary World Cinema section at the 2013 Toronto International Film Festival.
